

WE GATHER TO HONOR AND REMEMBER THOSE WE HAVE LOST

WITCHES HILL ~ northward a painted backdrop ~ west and east the Himalayas are rugged wings wherein to escape the world southward stretches the whole world for a stage where each must play his part.

This way ahead to the bazar and Taylor's Flat and straight ahead to the Pines ~ may I go to the bazar?

Independence Hall and Liberty Bell
The ARTS and SCIENCES

The longest way round is the shortest way

Is it the sunrise we all watch from this little hill?

SHE lives here

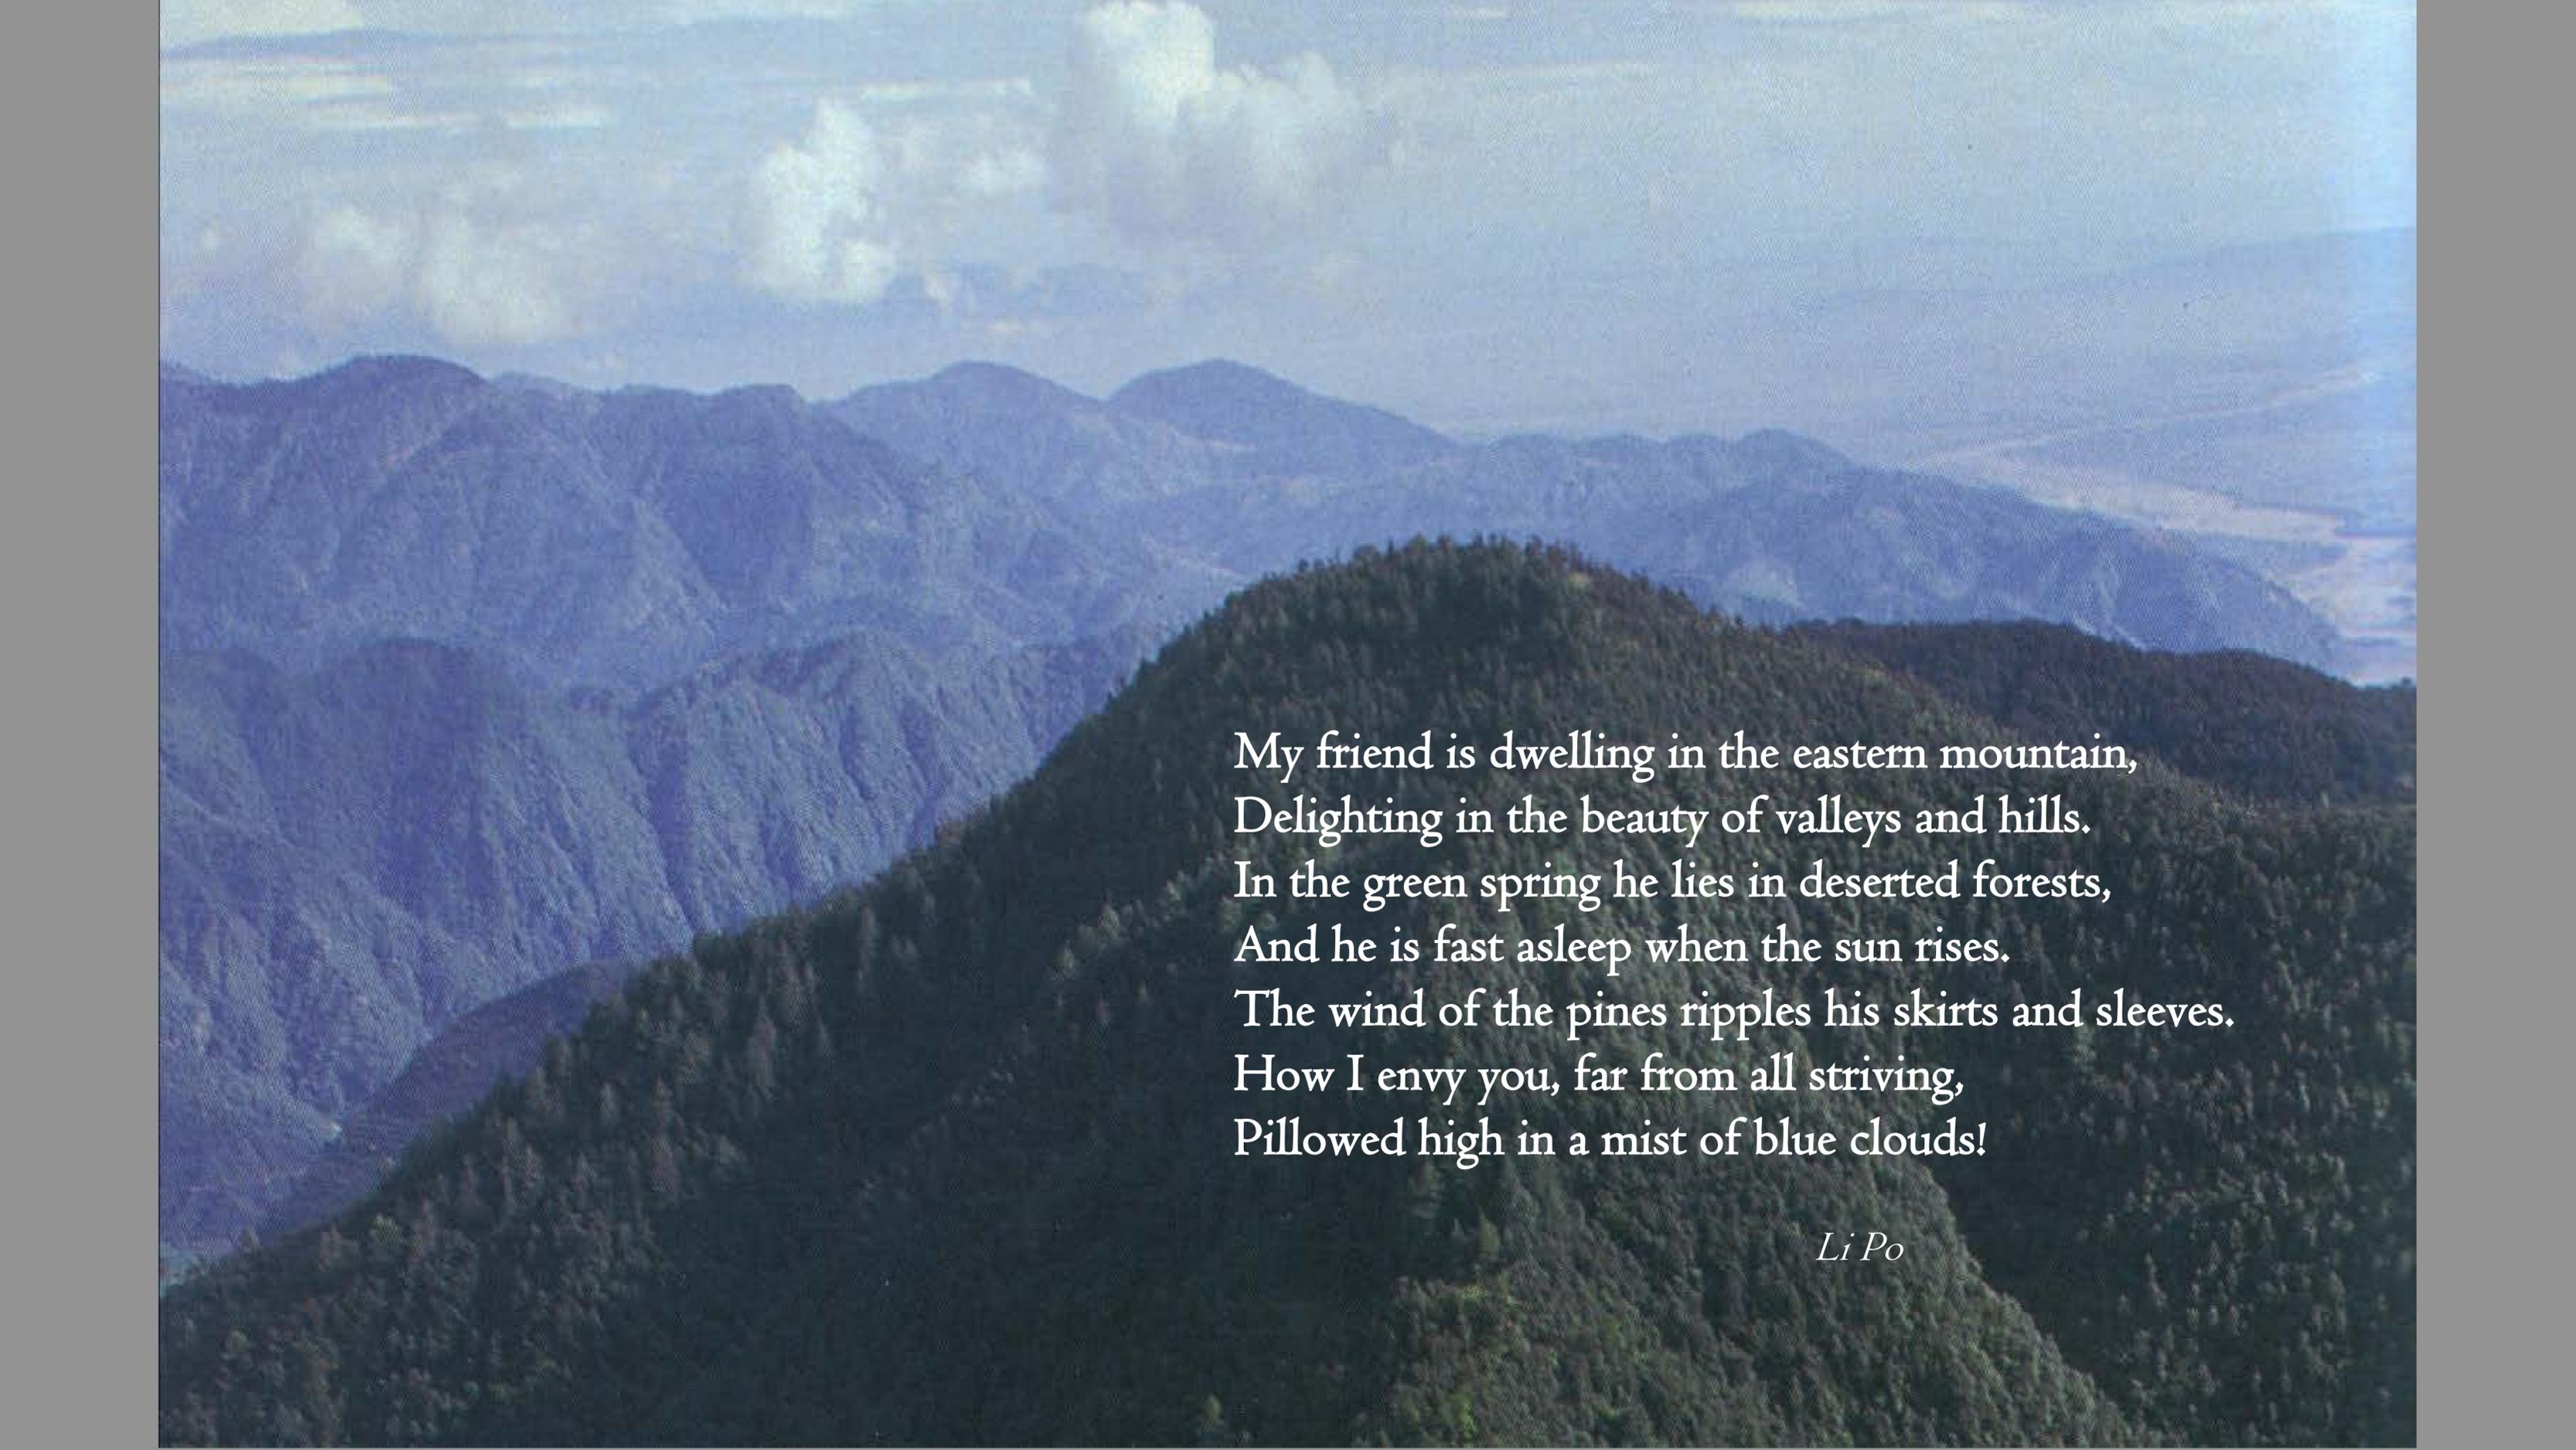

THEY meet and part here ~ this is the POWER House.

HE lives here CHAMPIONS are MADE and DIE here

This is vaguely largely mysterious source of ARCHAIC and ROMANTIC lore and inspiration

THESE are the PINES ~ moonlight and starlight are filtered here ~ Subjected to the alchemy of circumstance, what memories are not engendered ~

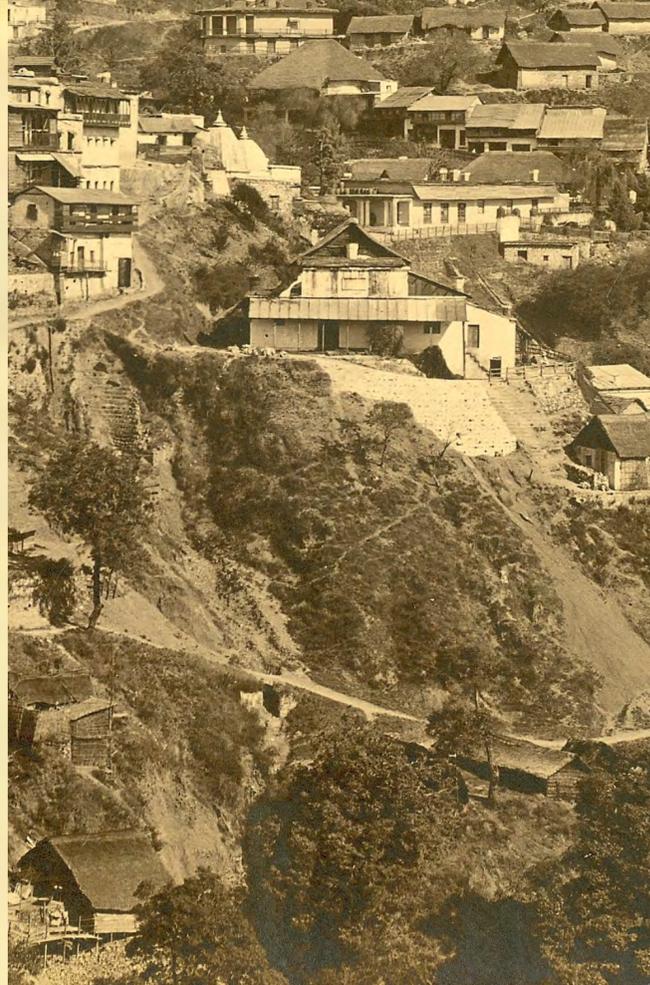

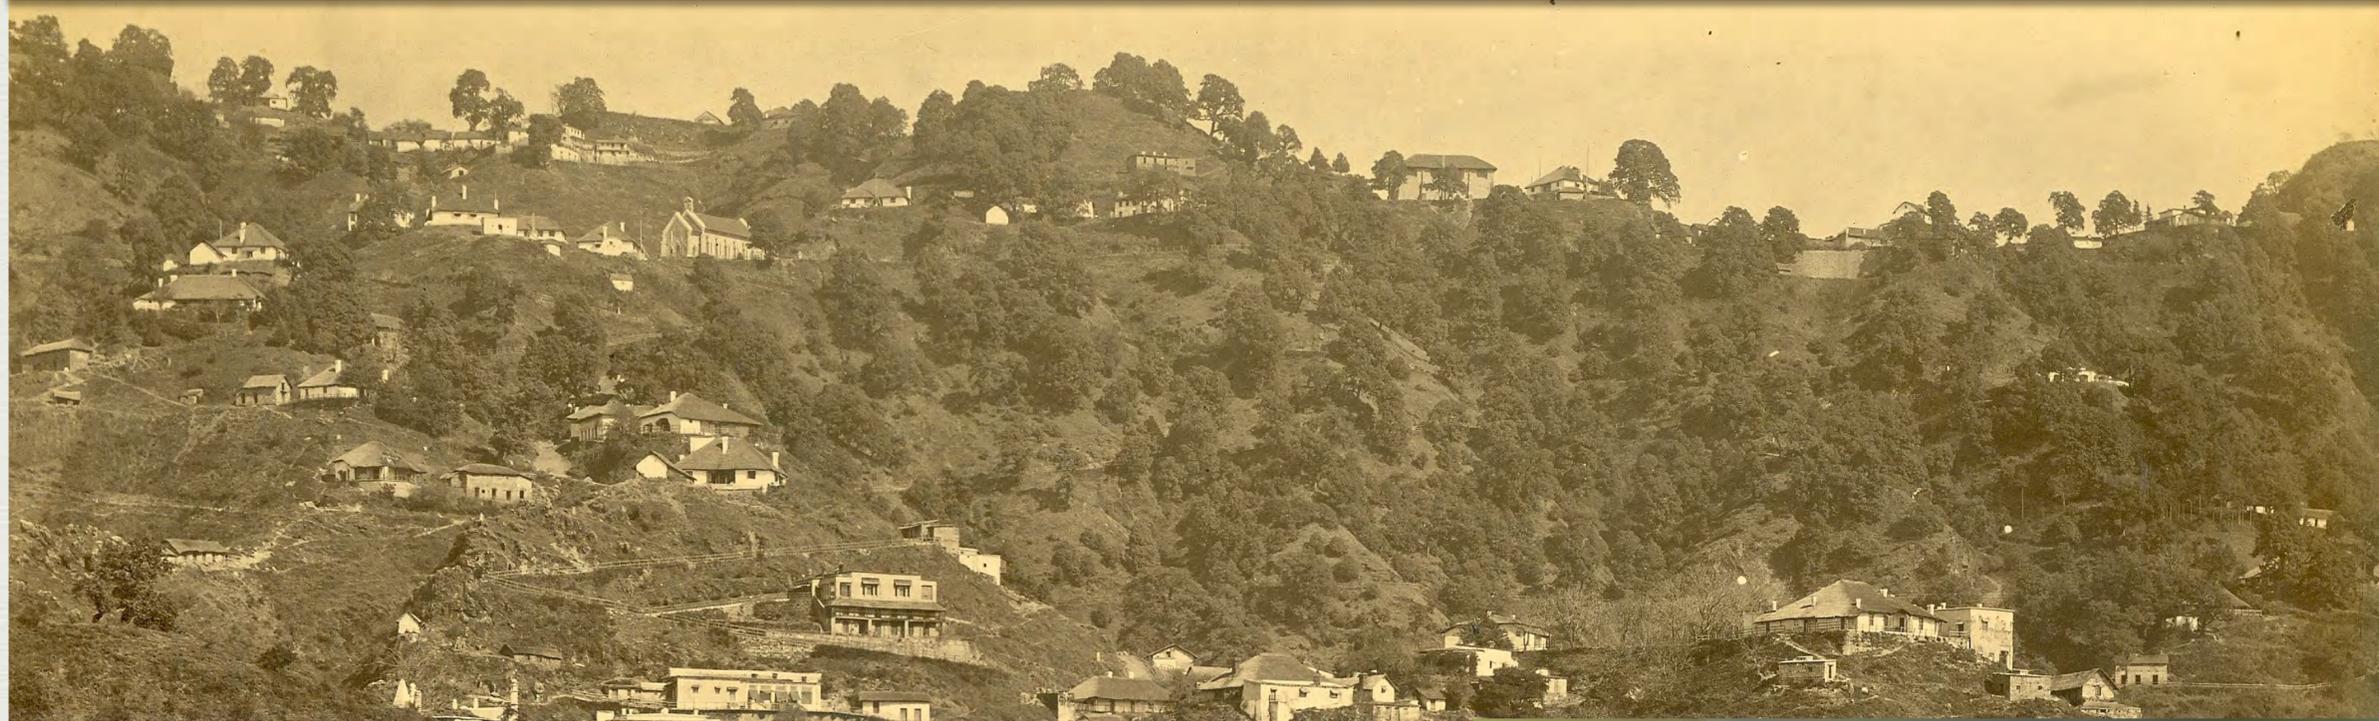

1933

A scenic view of a mountain range. In the foreground, a dark, forested mountain peak rises. The background features a series of rolling, misty mountains in shades of blue and purple, creating a sense of depth and atmosphere. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds.

My friend is dwelling in the eastern mountain,
Delighting in the beauty of valleys and hills.
In the green spring he lies in deserted forests,
And he is fast asleep when the sun rises.
The wind of the pines ripples his skirts and sleeves.
How I envy you, far from all striving,
Pillowed high in a mist of blue clouds!

THE HAND PULLED RICKSHAWS
In the later half of the 19th century, when the town was firmly established as a popular hill resort, transport within the town became a major issue. Moreover, after a night of revelry people found it difficult to return to their residences without any convenient mode of transport.
In 1880, an Indian businessman came up with the idea of hand-
